Thanksgiving Dinners Are Rushed To Americans
At Front

By Irving Levine
INS War Correspondent

SEOUL, Nov. 22 — (INS) — United Nations patrols thrust forward today in preparation for an all-out assault to uproot an estimated 120,000 Chinese and Korean Red troops from strong positions in northwest Korea.

On the opposite side of the slanting North Korean front, the U. S. Seventh Infantry Division sent a column to the edges of Samsu in a move to widen the newly-won American hold on the south side of the Manchurian border.

The four-way hub of Samsu lies five miles below the International Boundary and ten miles southwest of Hyesanjin where the seventh Division's 17th regiment Tuesday reached the Yalu River facing Manchuria.

A dynamited road and a burning bridge held up the American tank-led troops on the south fringes of Samsu from which Communist forces were reported to have fled.

Far to the east, the South Korean Capitol Division pursued retreating enemy troops to the vicinity of Namun, only 59 air miles southwest of the Tumen river border between Soviet Siberia and Korea's northeast tip. Namun is the coastal gateway to the big port of Chongjin, six miles to the northeast.

Consolidating their perimeter around Hyesanjin, the 17th regiment's GI's had a treat in store for them—a turkey and trimmings dinner Thursday.

The ingredients of Thanksgiving dinners were rushed to American soldiers in all Korean sectors. But the victory the Yanks had hoped would be theirs to celebrate on Thanksgiving this holiday still eluded them. All agreed Red China's intervention was a blow.

Hard fighting remained in prospect, particularly on the western and central fronts, as reports circulated in Tokyo that an additional 48,000 Chinese Communist troops had entered Korea during the past week.

Even in the rear areas the enemy showed no signs of imminent collapse. South Korean army officials termed increasing Red guerrilla attacks a "serious" matter.

One enemy force described by ROK (Republic of Korea) military commanders as a full North Korean

A total of $7,500 to date has been reached in Bucks County's Girl Scout drive for funds announced William A. Rawak, fund drive chairman. This falls short of last year's collections so drive chairmen, working hard to wind up the drive in their own communities throughout the County, hope to reach more people to increase the amount. The Bristol course was conducted by Miss Martha Gillogly, field director; Newtown course by Mrs. Alan Brady, Wycombe; Doylestown course by Miss Jessie Brittingham, executive director.

Plans are being made for the council to undertake a program survey in order to find out how best the council committees can help the troops and troop leaders. A program resource file containing information of places for troops to visit throughout the county has been set up by the program committee. Mrs. Marvin Keller, Newtown, chairman. The committee have also set up a council library containing books for use by the troop leaders and have cook out equipment to be loaned to troops. The next meeting will be Dec. 18 at home of Mrs. Hillborne Dean, Bucks County Girl Scout president in New Hope.

The message to the burgesses and through him to the residents of Bristol, is from Lord Mayor F. A. Parish, and Deputy Lord Mayor and Chairman of the festival committee P. W. Cann.

The invitation reads as follows: CITY AND COUNTY OF BRISTOL (England)

According to Melvin, evidence was not sufficient to hold Bartley for a coroner's jury, testimony offered giving evidence of "an unavoidable accident."

Those testifying were Bartley and Chief of Police of Falls township, Franklin Kirby.

Will Refinance Bond Issue If Suits Are Won

PALMYRA, N. J., Nov. 22 — If pending court suits are won by the Burlington County Bridge Commission, that body plans to refinance its bond issue which would enable it to make: 1. Annual payments of profit to Burlington county; 2. Further reductions in tolls; 3. Large savings in interest payments, resulting in additional profit for the county.

That was disclosed today in a letter the commission sent to Burlington freeholders, who recently commended the commission for its "excellent" operation of the Tacoma-Palmyra and Burlington-Bristol bridges. In its annual report, the commission had told the freeholders that an ultimate total county profit of $13,000,000 was indicated, as a profit of $529,666 already has been accumulated for the county.

The freeholders, however, on a motion by Freeholder Henry S. Haines, asked the commission "under what circumstances and when" could the $529,666 be turned over to the county.

In today's letter, Fred C. Norcross Jr., commission secretary-treasurer, explained that "the answer remains with the courts."

Pointing out that the commission now has $3,393,481.03 in its bank accounts, Norcross said:

"This vast sum is tied up as a result of the law suit instituted by Freeholders."

GUESTS FROM INDIA

POINT PLEASANT, Nov. 22 — The annual Cub Scouts pow-wow of Bucks County Council Boy Scouts of America was held at Camp Okanickon on Sunday when 63 representatives of the Cub Packs of the Council took part in the greatest event of this kind which has ever been held in the county.

The pow-wow which was under the direction of Solomon A. Miller of Langhorne, training chairman of the council, and Lloyd Bucher, Cub Scout chairman, of Pennell, was organized in four parts: Administration, ceremonies, games and handicraft. The program (two to 19 p. m.) was crisscrossed full of worthwhile activity with the "Blue and Gold Dinner" being an outstanding feature.

The administration section was in charge of Albert Weidemeyer, Sellersville; Clifford Clymer was in charge of the games section; Miller and Bucher were leaders of the ceremony section; and the handicraft was directed by William and Jean Liebig and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Reichenbach, Doylestown.

Five men from India who are engineers, visiting this country, and are interested in Cub Scouting, and Boy Scouting, spent the entire time at the pow-wow, and participated in all sections of the event. This group is leaving to return to India and is interested in American Scouting methods. All those who attended the pow-wow had an opportunity to make craftwork articles in addition to participating in their own section.

Summons are to be issued for Watson, Goetichins and Ganther, according to Meyers, with hearings scheduled before Justice of the Peace M. M. Lawrence, Bristol.

GOV'T POLICY MAKERS AWARE INFLATION IS HERE, AND UNLESS STOPPED THAT IT CAN WRECK ECONOMY, DESTROY MOBILIZATION

In the present period of vast national mobilization for defense and the resulting inflationary pressures, one of the biggest questions in the public mind is: Are price and wage controls coming? In this article, third of a series reporting to the country on "What We Face" in the months and years ahead, International News Service reporter Malcolm Johnson tells what Washington's top economic planners are thinking and saying on the subject.

By Malcolm Johnson
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 — (INS) — Government policy makers are aware that inflation is already here and that unless it is stopped it can wreck the economy, destroy the defense mobilization program and give our enemies a bloodless victory.

On the consumer level, the American housewife watches the almost daily rise in the cost of living. She feels that her family dollars are being priced out of existence.

Prices and wages are, of course, the key factor in the whole problem.

To paraphrase Mark Twain's comment on the weather, everybody talks about high prices but nobody does anything about them.

Washington is just beginning to try, but the efforts thus far have gone scarcely beyond the talking and planning stage.

CAR HURTTES INTO FIELD AT CROYDON

Car Operated by Cornwells Man is Overturned By the Impact

2 CROYDON CRASHES

CROYDON, Nov. 22 — Two highway accidents were investigated here last evening by Bristol township Constable Charles B. Meyers.

In one case a passenger car was turned completely over, then hurtled into a field 65 feet away where it landed right-side up.

According to Meyers the one accident occurred at the intersection of State road and Third avenue at 5:20. A sedan driven by Harold Watson, Cornwells Heights, is said to have attempted to enter State road from Third avenue, as a machine operated by George R. Goetichins, 3090 block of Unruh avenue, Philadelphia, was traveling west on State road. The Goetichins machine is said to have hit the right rear fender of the Watson car, the front of the Goetichins car being mashed in. The Watson car was overturned by the impact, and hurtled into the field. Neither driver was hurt, but both cars were towed from the scene.

Two cars were involved in a crash at 6:25 at the intersection of Route 13 and Bellevue avenue. Meyers' records show that a sedan was being operated by N. Herbert Moyer, Souderton R. D. (Montgomery county), west on Route 13, when a car driven by William H. Ganther, R. D. 1, Croydon, backed out of a parking space in front of a store here. The right front fender of the Moyer car is said to have hit the right rear fender on the Ganther machine. Moyer's car was towed from the scene. There were no injuries.

MEET AT PERKASIE

John Appleyard, Public Relations Director, U. S. Steel, Speaks

PERKASIE, Nov. 22 — Bucks County Boroughs Association held its monthly meeting in the American Legion home here, last evening, with the boroughs of Sellersville and Perkaskie acting as hosts. John Appleyard, public relations director of United States Steel Corp., was the guest speaker.

Capt. George C. Butler, Burgess of Doylestown, gave the invocation; and John R. May presided with 15 boroughs represented.

The following guests and officers of the association were introduced: William Hammerschmidt, chief of police of Sellersville; members of Perkaskie police force; G. Hawley Hayman, past president; Francis Byers, Bristol, vice-president; Charles H. Knapp, Quakertown, secretary; Lewis Bond, Newtown, treasurer; Walter Horstine, Burgess of Perkaskie, said: "On behalf of the council and residents of Perkaskie it is indeed a pleasure to welcome the boroughs association to tonight, and everyone is to feel at home." J. Lloyd Hoagney, Sellersville, welcomed the group on behalf of Sellersville.

Francis Byers, Bristol councilman, said: "A great many boroughs are called upon by the state to install new sewage treatment plants and other improvements which put a great financial burden on the people without any subsistence coming from the state, although the state orders the boroughs to do the work. It is felt by the Pennsylvania Association that the state should help pay for this work so that it will not be a burden on any borough. The Pennsylvania Association needs backing to get this legislation through." To give this backing Mr. Byers presented the following resolution which the boroughs association adopted.

"RESOLUTION

"Whereas, the Pennsylvania Department of Health, through the Sanitary Water Board, has ordered a number of Boroughs in Bucks County to construct sewage treatment plants or to remodel present sewage treatment plants; and

"Whereas, the Boroughs in Bucks County are not financially able to comply with the order of the Sanitary Water Board to construct such treatment plants or to remodel present treatment plants; and

"Whereas, it is the desire of the Bucks County Boroughs Association to prevent a crushing burden of debt from being forced upon the people in its Boroughs,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved: That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be requested to furnish, by appropriate legislation, substantial financial assistance to our

THANKSGIVING

America, in the midst of troubled times bringing distress of mind to many, comes to a date hallowed by tradition in the realization that Thanksgiving is not merely an institution reserved for the usages of good times and happiness.

In America's span Thanksgiving has served this people in good times and bad, in weal and in woe.
Culturally it is an all-inclusive day, catering to the spiritual needs of folk whatever their condition.

Thanksgiving is a time for heart searching and for personal endeavor to get in tune with the Infinite. This earth vouchsafes no regime and no order giving happiness to all.

The individual by his own efforts and in collaboration with his fellows achieves whatever approximation of content he may. That is very much a matter of facing the great climaxes as they come and surmounting them.

America and Americans are in an era of inflation against a background of uncertainty and fear. There is a vast search for security in an insecure world. In such a time people should turn as naturally to a just Providence as flowers to the sun. Thanks should be offered for the privilege of seeking the solace of an everlasting and an ever-present Power.
On Thanksgiving Day America's assignment and its great privilege is to seek by petition and entreaty, with an humble and contrite heart, the strength of faith.

LIGHT ON THE PROGRAM

The nation's business men and industrialists now have a better picture of the federal government's rearmament plans. Members of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council, meeting at Sea Island, Ga., heard a number of authoritative speeches on this subject. And much of the information given them has been made public.

Defense Secretary Marshall could not give full details of the production program, for the blueprint is only half finished, but he offered some general facts. As now planned, the rearmament program will be a four-year affair. Its exact size is still undecided, so its effect on the supply of civilian goods cannot be estimated, but the hope is that it can be run in a way to avoid long shutdowns or layoffs.

That sounds vague, perhaps,
but Secretary Marshall said specifically that during the months just ahead the volume of defense orders will take care of any "slack" resulting from government controls. That was definitely reassuring to management.

Industrialists must have been pleased, too, to hear from National Production Administrator Harrison that no set limits will be put on consumer end-products, such as automobiles. Materials going into such goods will be curtailed but producers will be able to use their ingenuity to stretch it out.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.
(Copyright, 1950
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—There is a remarkable similarity between two recent books attacking the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The most recent, written by the President's adviser on liberal thinking, Max Lowenthal, has numerous passages containing source material that has appeared in an earlier book by Albert E. Kahn.

In the past day or so we have taken a good look at Lowenthal, so let's examine Kahn's background.
Offhand, Kahn has been cited as being a member of seven organizations characterized as subversive by Government agencies, more organizations labeled as Communist fronts than are worth counting, and has opposed the jailing of the 10 Communist party leaders convicted of attempting to overthrow the Government by force and violence.
He is on record as demanding the release of Leon Josephson, a notorious Soviet lover and jailbird, who got there for sassing the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Kahn's latest errand on behalf of the Communist Party was with the World Peace Conference. He was elected to the permanent committee of this Kremlin adjunct in Paris, where he told the assembled Soviet-lovers that American clergymen were solidly behind them.

Lowenthal's book was published by the William Sloane Associates, Inc. On the cover the author is described as a "conservative in the most profound sense," which runs counter to another Presidential intimate, Jonathan Daniels. Daniels describes Lowenthal as the man more responsible for Mr. Truman's liberal thinking than any other American.

Nobody would ever suspect Kahn of being a conservative. So let's compare him to the publisher's version of one.

On page 8 and elsewhere in Kahn's book, "High Treason—The Plot Against the People," he quotes from the report of the Inter-Church World Movement which was critical of the Department of Justice roundup of Communists in 1950.

Lowenthal, in his first 250 pages, does likewise.

On pages 11 and 16, Kahn blames F. B. I. Director J. Edgar Hoover for the roundup of Reds, and goes into critical detail regarding the Department of Justice General Intelligence Division. Lowenthal, devotes chapters on end to this ancient situation.

Kahn, on page 18 of his book, quotes F. B. I. Director Hoover regarding the roundup of the Reds.
On page 173, Lowenthal uses almost an identical quote.

Another almost identical quotation appears in Kahn's book on page 18. Lowenthal's on page 238.

On page 20, Kahn goes into detail in accusing agents of acting as "infiltrators" in the trials of the Communists. Lowenthal, on page 217, blasts the F. B. I. on the same count and almost in the same language.

Both Kahn and Lowenthal discuss a jail in Hartford, Conn., and a federal building in Detroit, Mich.
In Kahn's book the references are on pages 20, 21 and 22. In Lowenthal's, on pages 201 and 208.

Deer Island, where one Communist committed suicide and one was adjudged insane, is mentioned in both books in exact detail. Lowenthal gets around to it on page 207.
Kahn on page 23.

The two authors use a book by Louis F. Post, one-time Department of Labor official, as weighty source material to berate the F. B. I. As it happens, Post, who had a hand in the roundup of Communists in 1950, does not even list F. B. I. Director Hoover's name in the index of his book. If Hoover has to stand in line for the blame it seems no more than fair that Post should have recognized him. After all, Post was there and had an active part in the affair.

On page 79 of his opus, Kahn carries in full a quotation from a memorandum from Hoover to William J. "Wild Bill" Donovan, then an Assistant Attorney General.
Lowenthal uses identical language on page 299 of his book. Just as a sample to give you an idea of what Kahn and Lowenthal have in mind.

here is a paragraph identical in both books:

"It was a bitter pill for J. Edgar Hoover to swallow; but he was willing to bide his time and await a more propitious day when he might resume his old anti-radical activities." Anti-Communist is what they mean, but we can let that go for now to thank God that Hoover did resume such activities. If he ever stopped them, it is doubtful.

An author, of course, can use whatever sources he likes in filling the pages of his book. Kahn is probably as good as any for Lowenthal in view of his objectives.

William Sloane Associates Inc., make a point of the fact that Lowenthal quotes F. B. I.'s defenders in his book, "including of course, J. Edgar Hoover." That sounds fine and dandy. But Lowenthal has yet to talk to Hoover, visit the F. B. I. or request research data from the Bureau. I know. I asked the F. B. I. if they had ever seen anybody resembling Lowenthal around the place. A Bureau spokesman said, "No."

Boroughs Are To Ask State Aid, Sewage Plants

Boroughs in order to enable them to comply with the order from the Commonwealth to expend large sums of money for the construction or remodeling and operation of sewage treatment plants:

"Be it further resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be sent to Governor-elect John S. Fine, to Senator Edward B. Watson and Representatives Wilson L. Yeakey and Marvin V. Keller.

"Unanimously approved at a regular meeting of the Bucks County Boroughs Association this Twenty-first day of November, A. D.

located at Perkasee, Pennsylvania.
"JOHN R. MAY,
"President of the Association.
Attest:
"CHARLES H. KNAPP,
"Secretary."

Councilman Hayman, Doylees-town, stated that his borough is very interested in the new social security law just passed which now makes borough employees eligible for social security. He stated that in order to have borough employees receive the benefits, the state must take the first steps by signing an agreement with the federal government. He read a resolution which says in part as follows: "The Bucks County Boroughs Association is in favor of the borough employees in the different boroughs of Bucks county coming under the Social Security law and this association goes on record asking the state to sign an agreement with the federal government." Some members felt that the state did not need to sign an agreement with the government to put the borough employees under the act. However the Association adopted the resolution.

was won by Ralph Renninger, Doylestown.

Mr. May informed that the next meeting will be in February. Eldon Clemens invited the association to hold the meeting in Doylestown.

Mr. May introduced John J.
Appleyard, who has been with U. S. Steel for ten years, and who is living in Yardley. Mr. Appleyard said: "United States Steel, as yet, has not decided just what kind of a plant it is going to build in Bucks County. A steel mill will be built on the ground that has been bought in Falls township, and construction is expected to start in next spring.
I cannot go into details regarding the plant at this time, as a lot of planning still has to be done. The planning of the future needs of steel and the market for it was investigated by the company a long time ago. Back in 1940, U. S. Steel inquired into the possibility of getting ground around Morrisville, and in 1941 the decision to locate in Morrisville was made, but the war came along and it had to be forgotten at that time. When the war was over and things were almost back to normal the company bought ground for the new steel mill.

"The type steel mill projected for Bucks County is one that owns all of its own material and equipment for the making of steel. The building of a steel mill is a long undertaking and requires a lot of planning and money. It cannot just happen overnight. The defense program that the government is planning will have a lot to do with the size and type of a steel mill that the company builds. Until the government tells us what its needs will be the company does not want to say how large a mill will be built, but a steel mill will be built on the ground bought near Morrisville.

"As soon as the U. S. Steel Corp. knows what is needed and what it is going to do, a full announcement will be made by the company in the newspapers. Therefore, we are going to ask you to be patient.
We have been attending many meetings of school boards and councils, and other civic organizations largely as listeners so that we will be aware of the problems of the community. That way we can put into our plans for the mill a program to the best advantage to the area.

"I wish to make it clear," Mr.
Appleyard stated, "that we are located on the site in Falls township, near Morrisville, and not in Trenton. I am willing to meet with officials of the county and boroughs to talk with them so that we all understand each other. No matter where you go in Bucks county, people are talking about the new steel mill that is to be built and what it will mean. I have a film that will be shown called 'Steel, Man's Servant.' This will give you an idea of how steel is made.

"I do not know how many people will be employed in the steel mill after it is built as I do not know the size of the plant to be built, but I do know that a large percentage of the employees will come from around here. As of now, the company is not going to build any houses so it will be up to the people of the area to see that houses are here for the workers of the steel mill if they want the population to grow.

"You cannot make steel without smoke, but a lot is being done to combat it and to control it. The plant that will be built near Morrisville will have all the controls for smoke possible, and I feel sure no one in Bucks county needs to worry about the smoke from the steel mill."

He added: "We want you to be patient until we make the full announcement of the size and plans for the new plant to be built, and the officials of the company will be glad to sit down with any civic organization and discuss the plant and help with the problems the steel mill may cause."

DODGE

GIVE IT TO YOU!

IT'S A MATTER OF better weight distribution

You can haul more payload than ever in a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck, because the load is better distributed. Most trucks carry too much of the load on the rear axle—too little on the front. Because the engine of a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck is moved forward and the front axle back, both axles carry the right proportion of the load. That means you can haul bigger payloads without overloading.

NOT THIS The payload on most trucks—like the girl in this boat—rides too far to the rear. Result:
there's too much weight aft, not enough forward.

BUT THIS In "Job-Rated" trucks, the load is moved forward—as the girl is now positioned.
Results: proper weight distribution—bigger payloads—easier handling.

Gov't Policy Makers Aware Inflation is Here And Must Be Stopped

set up for the imposition of wage and price controls as needed.

But the measures contemplated thus far fall far short of the immediate firm, all-out controls urged by Bernard Baruch as a step towards total mobilization.

Indeed, Washington seems to be approaching the whole problem with grave misgivings, fearful of upsetting the delicate balances of the national economy.

As Government officials see it, the problem is to curb inflation through some form of controls but without putting the economy into a strait jacket.

They see potential dangers either way—with too much control or with too little.

Therefore it is becoming increasingly evident that the Government will invoke all-out compulsory controls only as a last resort.

The present attitude, the planners say, is to exhaust all lesser measures first.

The official attitude was summed up succinctly by Alan Valentine, head of the newly created Economic Stabilization Agency, which is empowered to control prices and wages.

Valentine said:

"Inflation has been going on for some years, and has long worried a great many people. Its dangers are now so obvious that nearly everyone wants the Government to do something about inflation, provided that what it does does not involve him in any personal sacrifice or inconvenience.

"The nation seems agreed that inflation in general must not be permitted to go farther. The only disagreements are about the nature, extent, incidence and timing of controls."

There is talk in Washington today of "voluntary" controls, indirect and direct controls and "selective controls."

"Selective controls" would be imposed on specific industries, as and when needed.

The difficulty here, however, is that once controls are slapped on any major industry while other industries are left free, chaos may result.

As one realistic Government official privately expressed it:

"Once you put controls on any basic industry, there will be an avalanche. I don't see how controls on all other industries affected could be avoided. In final analysis, that means controls straight across the board."

As far as the public is concerned, the whole idea seems to be to try persuasion and exhortation first, then firmer measures as needed.

Efforts will be made to convince the people of the necessity of self-imposed discipline, caution and some willingness to sacrifice. If that doesn't work, compulsory controls, with their inevitable headaches, will be in order.

Among first step measures now being tried are credit restrictions in housing and installment buying. Further controls along these lines may be expected, so that from a credit standpoint alone it will become increasingly difficult for the average person to buy a house, furnishings, automobiles, radios and televisions sets.

As for the effectiveness of voluntary measures, Valentine noted that the psychology of a Pearl Harbor is lacking now, and added:

"Many Americans are not yet ready to make real personal sacrifice in the war against inflation. Must Alaska or Greenland be in enemy hands before many Americans recognize our danger and act accordingly?"

Valentine defined direct controls as price and wage fixing: that is, freezing of wages and ceilings on prices.

Since wages and prices go hand in hand and one cannot be controlled without the other, the Government has also set up a Wage Stabilization Board.

It is headed by Cyrus S. Ching, the veteran labor mediator, who said he would not even hazard a guess on the prospect of wage freezes in the future.

Ching explained that his Board's job is to study the whole wage situation, with a view of stabilization through agreement or some formula.

Under the present defense act he said that when prices are controlled wages must also be stabilized. The Board has no authority to control wage levels, but can only make recommendations to Valentine's Board, the administrative agency.

How wages are to be treated will depend, therefore, on the extent of price controls.

What happens in the steel industry, for instance, may affect the whole picture. Steel workers are demanding a new round of wage increases.

The Government is watching closely to see whether the increases, if granted, will be absorbed by the industry without a corresponding price increase.

There seems little likelihood that steel will do any such thing. Eugene Grace, chairman of the Beth-

SOME GLAD THANKSGIVING DAY

Dear Lord another Thanksgiving day is here. A special one for Thy children to cease. From their toil, from strife, and every form of fear. And lift the heart in Praise and Prayer for Peace. On this Thanksgiving day.

Thy great gifts to us dear Lord we can not count. They far exceed the sands upon the shore. Finite minds could never grasp as blessings mount. From Thy great wisdom and Thy mighty store. On this Thanksgiving day.

Fields with precious golden corn and ripened wheat. Fruits in abundance for the joys of life. Wisdom of the human heart and mind to meet Worlds greatest sorrows and, bitterest strife. On this Thanksgiving day.

Lord this day of thanks may we be closer drawn. Nearer and nearer, towards heaven's open door. Fill us with wisdom till the morning doth dawn. When we shall stand on heaven's bright golden shore. Some glad Thanksgiving day.

Andalusia, Pa.

lehem Steel Corporation, is on record as saying that any wage increase must be passed on to the consumers. Other steel spokesmen including U. S. Steel's Benjamin Fairless, have expressed a similar attitude.

Steel is a key industry which plays a vital role in the national economy and in the mobilization program. Government spokesmen are known to be hoping that steel can be "persuaded" to absorb a new wage increase, without raising prices.

Otherwise, the Government may step in and impose price controls on steel. That may start a chain reaction. A showdown with steel is expected in the near future.

A STATEMENT BY THE ROHM & HAAS COMPANY

For the first time in the 41-year history of this Company, one of our plants is being closed by a strike.

231 maintenance employees of our plant in Bristol, members of Local No. 88 of the Federation of Glass, Ceramic and Silica Sand Workers of America, C.I.O., walked out yesterday morning, necessitating a shutdown and cutting off 1,219 other employees from their jobs.

A Rohm & Haas plant never before has been struck. The reasons are a matter of record, which anyone can check:

Wages paid our employees always have been among the highest in each area where we operate.

Raises in pay have more than kept pace with raises in other industries and with increased living costs. The most recent raise was provided last spring, when an increase of 5 cents an hour for both maintenance and production workers was put into effect by the Company.

The Company has long been a leader in providing benefits for its employees. The Company pioneered with a pension and family insurance plan which is one of the most liberal in all industry. The cost of this protection has been borne entirely by the Company.

Rohm & Haas plants are well known for steady employment and for better-than-average opportunities for promotion.

In the negotiations preceding the strike, the Company made certain offers which it believes are fair to all concerned. They included additional rate increases and other benefits.

The effect of this strike goes far beyond homes and businesses in the immediate area of the plant. It stops production of military orders for defense material. It affects the families not only of our own employees but also of the employees of our suppliers and customers and of the merchants with whom they trade.

The Army Air Force has requested that the Company consent to mediation of the strike and the Company has agreed.

A GOOD MIXER

YOU'LL FIND men like this at work day after day in our laboratories.

One of the many ways in which they bring science into action is skilled blending of gases of various types.

For example, these experts take natural gas, "water gas," "producer gas," "reformed oil gas," and propane gas, and combine them—in exactly the right proportions and in exactly the right way—to produce a clean, hot gas of excellent burning quality and in ample supply.

The result is plenty of gas, better gas, a more-than-ever dependable service for you.

ST. FRANCIS HAS ITS LONE DEFEAT, DIAMOND LEAGUE

BORDENTOWN, N.J., Nov. 22.—St. Francis Vocational School, of Edgington, suffered its lone defeat of the Diamond 135-lb League yesterday afternoon when topped by the Bordentown Manual 135-pounders, 6-0, in a hard-fought contest.

The only score occurred in the first five minutes of playing. Following an exchange of punts, St. Francis got itself into a hole on a bad pass from center. Ambrose Wicks booted the ball out of the danger zone temporarily, the ball going out on the 35. But Bordentown worked the pigskin to the 12-yard from where Charlie Levens hauled it over for the touchdown. The extra point try was blocked.

The wind made passing and kicking difficult, forcing players to resort to ground plays.

"Bill" Campbell and Gus DeBello were outstanding for St. Francis with Jay Clark and Levens playing the best for Bordentown. St. Francis had five first downs to Manual's four.

The loss did not affect the Edgington team's standing as it clinched the crown two weeks ago. It won five games and lost one during the season.

Gifts To Be Given Each Child Gathering at Tree

Members of the Ladies' auxiliary of Fleetwing Estates met Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. William Carey, Mrs. Lawrence Harrison presided.

The children's party on Christmas eve was discussed. It was decided to provide gifts for every child who gathers at the community tree with different gifts for different ages, to be distributed by Santa Claus. It was decided to send a Christmas remembrance to any Fleetwing Estates resident now in the service.

The Christmas party for the auxiliary is scheduled for Dec. 18th, at the home of Mrs. Robert Hyatt. Members are to take "Pollyanna" gifts to exchange. The auxiliary will provide refreshments.

Plans were made to select a judge from outside the Estates to choose the best-decorated home in that community at Christmas time, and award the $5 prize contributed by the auxiliary.

Star-shaped fruit salad, cake and coffee, were served by Mrs. Carey.

U. N. Patrols Make Thrust Forward for All-out Assault

division launched a direct assault on the junction city of Choswon, only 45 miles north-northeast of Seoul.

ROK Second Division troops in all-day fighting repulsed the attack which marked the first time in the war that Red guerrillas have struck in divisional strength.

Less than 40 miles northeast of Seoul—the South Korean capital liberated from the Red invaders two months ago—three ROK columns were locked in bloody fighting with a big North Korean guerrilla force around Chunchon.

The guerrillas captured Chunchon last Saturday. They now control a 25-square-mile area around that strategic rail-highway center seven miles below the 38th parallel which once formed the artificial border between South and North Korea.

For the present the fighting far behind the main lines was heavier than at the front. But there were multiplying indications that a large-scale and perhaps decisive battle is about to erupt in north-west Korea.

One such portent was an attack

Wednesday by U. S. Fifth Air Force Mustangs on the Korean side of a Yalu river bridge in the North Korean emergency capital of Sinuiju opposite Manchuria's Antung.

The Mustangs dumped half-ton bombs on the span but the resultant smoke obscured any view of the results. Both of Sinuiju's vital bridges had been blasted previously by B-29 Superforts and other planes, but the enemy may have had time to make repairs.

Troops of seven United Nations divisions and one brigade, plus other newly arrived elements, completed their buildup of a stockpile of munitions and supplies for the expected offensive in the northwest and central sectors.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in a Tokyo communique issued late Wednesday announced that ROK, British, Filipino, Turkish and American troops "patrolled the western sector vigorously," making "limited contacts" with the enemy. This was the first official disclosure of the arrival of Filipino and Turkish troops at the front lines.

23D THANKSGIVING GAME WILL START 10.30 TOMORROW

Bristol high and Morrisville high will clash in their 23rd Thanksgiving day game tomorrow morning on the local gridiron. Kickoff will be at 10:30 o'clock.

In the 22 games played thus far, Bristol has won 13, lost six, and tied three. In 1942, two games were played but an agreement was made that only the Thanksgiving day affair would count in the annual records.

Last season Morrisville ended its season in brilliant style with a 23-6 win over the Warriors. The defeat cost Bristol a chance for the Lower Bucks County crown. Morrisville is out of the league race this season, while a Bristol triumph and a Neshaminy win over Bensalem will enable Coach Harry McClister's team to finish in a three-way deadlock for first place.

Bristol has won four games this season and lost five. Morrisville has captured two ties, lost five, and tied two.

Records mean nothing to the two clubs in their annual turkey day affair. Everything is thrown to the wind, with the boys having but one thought in mind, that is a win on Thanksgiving Day. So both teams are usually up for the classic.

Several Bristol players will be playing their 20th game, including: Norman Sorenson, Tom Spitzo, Lou Loeffler, Ralston Hedrick, Tex Giagnacova, Charlie Rauch, Bill Gratz, Pat Deon, Myrl Binkley, Ned Albright, and Bill Moss. All are seniors with the exception of Binkley who will be over the age limit by the time the next football season rolls around. All are linemen except Loeffler who is a quarterback.

Coach McClister will most likely have the following in the starting lineup: Ends, Rauch and Hedrick; tackles, Sorenson and Gratz; guards, Binkley and Giagnacova; center, Albright; quarterback, Loeffler; halfbacks Jack Quinn and Alan Holston; fullback, Ercole Petrizzi.

In the Morrisville reserve list are: Krysa, LaRue, Neuman, and Garman, ends; Bambach, Erb, Gatter, tackles; Richardson, Woolley, Arnoldi, guards; Rohner, center; Galambos, Brady, Disler, Trout, Phillips, Brunner, Sullivan, backs.

In the event of inclement weather, the game will be played here Saturday.

BENSALEM TO BATTLE NESHAMINY THURSDAY

LANGHORNE, Nov. 22 — Bensalem township and Neshaminy high will meet in their annual Thanksgiving day game tomorrow at 10 a. m. on Playwicki field. A victory or tie will enable Bensalem to retain the Lower Bucks County League title it won in 1949. In 1948, the Owls and Bristol were deadlocked for the crown.

In league competition, Bensalem has won four games and lost one. The other teams in the loop have all been beaten at least two times. A triumph will give Bensalem 10 points while a tie will still give it the crown with 9 points.

If Neshaminy wins, the Redskins and Coach Marion Van-Horn's boys will be tied for first place with eight points each. Should Bristol beat Morrisville, the warriors will also have eight points.

Last season, Bensalem registered an easy 27-0 triumph over Coach "Jim" Egli's minions.

Bensalem's starting lineup will be composed of: Ends, Dick Gloyd and Alex Martin; tackles, Dick Scott and Walt Smith; guards, Myron Mattocks and Bob Scott; center, Gene Connolly; backs, Bob Whitfield, Johnny Bowman, Bob Ballist, and Bernie Brzoza. Neshaminy will have in its starting lineup: Ends, Dorsey and Hurst; tackles, Carber and Yantis; guards, Leitch and Galloway; center, Felch; backs, Castle, Mongillo, Turner, Maurer.

BASKETBALL CIRCUIT IS TO OPEN SOON

The Bristol Basketball League organized for the 1950-51 season last night at a meeting in the Diamond Sporting Goods Store, Mill street. According to the present plans, the circuit will open its season about December 13th, with games being played on Wednesdays and Sundays on the Rohm and Haas floor.

Four teams entered the loop last night, namely: Rohm and Haas, Profy's Luciano Brothers, and Fifth Ward Sporting Club. Franklin and the Hibernians, members of last year's loop, were not represented at the meeting.

Applications were received from the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company, Cornwells Boys Club, Lafayette A. C., and Greenwood Dairies.

Another meeting has been called by President Judge Diamanti for next Tuesday evening at which time franchises will be posted.

TURKEY DAY CLASSIC TO BE AT "PLAYWICKI"

Last season, Council Rock scored a 19-6 victory over Coach Claude Lodge's team.
